

For Immediate Release:
TK&K Services, Beverly, MA:

Edward Kurja has assumed the role of President of TK&K Services replacing Paul Thurston. As a founding partner of the firm, Ed has been the Executive Vice President and a Managing Partner since 2007 and is responsible for all aspects of company finance, estimating and business development. In addition, Ed is the Principal Engineer for the Environmental Services arm of the business and is a Professional Engineer in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts

Paul is planning to spend more time with his family and his church while still maintaining a significant role as part of the TK&K family. We are excited to announce Paul will continue to lend his vast expertise and knowledge as the new Director of Quality for the Company. In this role Paul will manage contract compliance matters, provide project operational support, and offer mentorship and guidance to junior staff.

Ken Standifer will join the executive team as the new Vice President of Operations and the Corporate Fuels Officer. Ken was the National Fuels Operations Manager for the company's fuel services division and has been with the Company since 2009. As VP of Operations Ken will be responsible for the overall management of TK&K's fuel division including contract compliance, client relations and oversight of program budgets and execution. Ken is a retired Air Force Senior Master Sergeant with comprehensive experience in logistics planning, aircraft fuel servicing, facility operations, accountability, scheduling, inventory, quality assurance functions, budgetary requirements, repair and maintenance of equipment and structures, facility design and engineering requirements, permitting and environmental compliance. His experience also extends to automated fuel accounting and distribution systems, cryogenic product storage and distribution, cargo handling and aircraft loading and unloading functions at local, national, and international levels. Ken holds both a bachelor's and an associate degree in Logistics.

Larry Reddish has been with the Company since 2016 and will move into the position of National Fuels Operations Manager for TK&K Services. As the Fuels Operations Manager, Larry is responsible for project management for fuel service contracts, proposal preparation, plan development and implementation. Larry served over 25 years in the United States Air Force in the fuels career field. During his military career, Mr. Reddish was promoted to Chief Master Sergeant and served in a myriad of fuels and logistics positions at bases around the world, culminating as the Logistics Readiness Squadron Superintendent at Davis-Monthan AFB, Arizona. Larry has an MBA, his bachelor's degree in organizational management and an associate degree in Logistics.
